May and June 2012

Contact Dayle Brown 574-217-8557, dayledavid@comcast.net

This exhibit is open to artists working in any two-dimensional media. The theme (TRansit Of VEnus) relates to the celestial event on June 5, 2012 in which the planet Venus drifts across the face of the sun. The transit of Venus last occurred 8 years ago. This will be the last transit of Venus to occur in your lifetime. It will be marked by lectures, historical exhibits, telescope observing, and planetarium shows locally and nationally. For more on this solar spectacle, please see <http://www.transitofvenus.org>

Artists are invited to create works that have relevance to this celestial phenomenon, are related to Venus, the sun, astronomy, etc. as well as gods and goddesses. The exhibit will include a series of posters created for the forthcoming poster contest to commemorate the event.

State intent to participate by April 15

Please email Dayle Brown with your intent to participate and/or any questions by April 15.
